

ARE HELD ON GAMING CHARGE

Police Make Three Raids and Arrest White Men and Negroes.

The city detective department, led by acting captain Tom Aumont, made three raids Monday evening about 10 o'clock on poker games. Arrests were made at the Pullman rooming house on San Antonio street, the Texas Grand hotel on Texas street, and the Aetna club on South Oregon street. In all, 150 decks of cards were confiscated and more than $8000 poker chips. The white men arrested on the charge of gaming gave the following names: W. L. Long, John Grey, Richard Taylor, W. F. Hirsell, L. Cohen, Ray Earl, J. B. Taylor, W. L. Lane, Al Williams, Fred Bingham, H. C. Bell, G. D. Richards, Frank Watson and Fred Glade. Bill Wilson, was charged with being the game keeper.

The following names were given to the police by negroes, arrested in Aetna club: Howard Rice, E. D. Wims, E. Luber, Frank Lott, West Ellison, Frank Crest, C. P. Farrer, C. T. Farrer, William Scott, Blue Wilson, John Franklin, Will Franklin, John Allison, and Eddie Green. William Drake was charged with being the game keeper. Thirty in all were taken to the police station and all were released under $25 bond or $10 cash bond, to appear in police court this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

"This is only a start on the games running in the city and in the next week we will have them pretty well cleaned up," said chief of police B. J. Zabitzkie Tuesday morning. Capt. Aumont has a list of the games running now and we will not be long in getting them into the net."

Begin To Purify Your Winter-Blood

Grandmother's Old-Fashioned Sulphur and Molasses Diet It.

But Not So Well As This Sulphur Tablet—Sugar Coated.

Through the winter the blood accumulates poisons because you do not perspire enough, because you do not live in the open air, and because you eat more meat, much and other rich foods. Every spring we feel sluggish, constipated, liver and kidney ill, beset us, colds and chronic coughs, pimples, boils and carbuncles, all evidence of impure, thick, sluggish blood.

Sulphur Tablets (not sulphur tablets) are composed of extracts of roots and herbs, combined with sulphur and cream of tartar—and no better physic, blood-tonic and blood cleanser has ever been developed. Every spring thousands who already know their value take them to purify the system of Winter Poisons. Now is the time to begin, so you won't be attacked by serious ailments when Spring and Summer come. Sold by all druggists 50c per sealed tube with full directions.

BOYS AND GIRLS OF EL PASO HIGH SCHOOL WHO WILL GRADUATE ON MAY 31

DO HONOR TO PAST MASTERS

Blue Lodge Masons Open Temple to Visitors; Hear Grand Lodge Men.

Honoring the past masters of El Paso Lodge No. 120, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, approximately 200 members and visitors of the fraternity assembled in Masonic temple Monday night to hear the roll called and listen to grand lodge and local officers speaking of the progress of the Masons of Texas and their institutions. The program followed "open house" in the clubrooms and library where an orchestra played.

Walter Acker, past grand master of Texas, and present superintendent of the Masonic Home and School for Orphans at Fort Worth, one of the most eloquent speakers heard here lately, told of the evolution of that institution, where 220 boys and girls are being cared for, educated and trained to be useful citizens at the expense of the state. Love of home, of country, of humanity and of God, was analyzed at length and with interpretations of poetic interpretations by Mr. Acker.

Past Masters On Stage. Seated on the stage in the auditorium were Horace B. Hayes, worshipping master; W. W. Evans, chairman of the evening; George F. Morgan, secretary and grand junior warden of the grand lodge; Tom C. Lea, grand orator of Texas; Supt. Acker; Lyman J. Burger, junior warden of El Paso Lodge; J. Ashley Gillett, junior warden; rabbi Martin Zelonka, chaplain; Eugene L. Sierra, and the following past masters: Stanley Bevan, John B. Watson, F. W. Brown, W. W. Clark, John T. Rice, James I. Hewitt, Ed W. Pew and R. D. Ritchey. A few of the life members occupied front seats. John D. Mason, district deputy grand master, was out of town.

Rabbi Zelonka opened the program with invocation.

After calling the roll of the deceased past masters the lodge chimed struck the hour of "new life."

Quartet Gave Selections. A quartet composed of W. R. and W. S. Taylor, Paul O. Yace and J. M. Keeling, assisted by W. Rudy and Charles C. G. Kohn, gave vocal selections appropriate to the occasion, accompanied by the pipe organ. The masons stood and sang the American battle hymn, and "America, clothe with 'God Be With You, Till We Meet Again'."

Mr. Gillett delivered the address of welcome.

Mr. Gillett spoke greetings to the visitors, comprising about one third of the gathering, who stood at his invitation.

Speaks for Visitors. Chaplain S. J. Smith, eighth field artillery, spoke for the visitors, especially the army contingent. He recalled his first visit to the lodge ten years ago and told a humorous anecdote.

Ed M. Whitaker, junior warden of Fraternity lodge, No. 1111, the youngest in Masonic circles here, told of the progress of that body, an offshoot of the parent lodge, celebrating its 50th anniversary. He said that Fraternity, starting with 55 members, had 150 master masons on its roster, and 25 on the way for degrees, and had met all its financial obligations in the furnishing of a hall in the Lanier building.

Presents P. M. Jewels. Eugene L. Harris, with wit pathos, presented past masters' jewels to James I. Hewitt and George W. Newell. The latter being absent, Mr. Clark accepted it for him. Mr. Hewitt, responding, told of his arrival in El Paso 13 years ago and the many kindnesses he had received at the hands of the local craftsmen, whom he presented over seven years after his coming.

Tells of 20 Years' Efforts. Mr. Morgan responded to his subject, "From the Panhandle to the Bronx, by way of El Paso," by recounting some of his activities in the grand lodge during the past 20 years.

Mr. Lea spoke of his pride in the annual past masters' celebration, started by former master Rice and ennobled the work of Masters Acker and Morgan in the grand lodge.

At 11:30 supper was served in the banquet hall, the names of Master and the Order of the Eastern Star on a dozen long tables tastefully decorated.

THE present is the largest senior class in the history of the El Paso High School. There are a total of 83 in the list this year, and 13 were graduated at the end of the January semester. "Y" IS POPULAR WITH THE ARMY

THE army Young Men's Christian association is operating at four centers in El Paso—in Camp Stewart, Camp Baker, Fort Bliss and the base hospital. Ten trained secretaries devote their entire time to the promotion of recreation, entertaining and religious work among the regular soldiers. These four branches are a small part of the entire work done for soldiers on the border. Fifteen branches between Nogales, Ariz., and Brownsville are serving the men of the army. Wilman E. Adams, formerly in charge of the army work in El Paso, has entire supervision of the association on the border with headquarters at San Antonio.
